Trails

The trails had come into good shape by mid January; however, conditions have deteriorated due to the recent warm spell. The short term forecast is not very positive. The area is in need of more snow to improve conditions. Hopefully late January and early February will bring colder weather and more snow.

The new groomer has been doing a great job and all the hard work that went into widening and re-routing the trails have really paid off. We've gotten a lot of positive comments about our trails this year.
